FOREWORD

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution offers this Volume Two of the DAR Library Catalog: State and Local Histories and Records, as a complement to Volume One Family Histories and Genealogies hoping that it will prove to be an asset to collections which reflect interest in genealogy and the early history of this nation. This volume represents the culmination of the five-year efforts of the DAR Library to reclassify the collection. It includes more than 23,000 titles of important genealogical and historical books and will serve as a major new bibliography in these disciplines. The extensive subject and author indices assure the user of quick and easy reference.

The genealogical library owned and maintained by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and located in the Society's Memorial Continental Hall in Washington, D. C., has in its total collection over 75,000 volumes, two-thirds of which are reflected in this published catalog. The National Society shares this treasure of genealogical records with all interested people by maintaining a Library open to all researchers.

Special appreciation is expressed to Mrs. Owen Vincent Gauthier, Librarian General (1983-1986), Mr. Eric G. Grundset, Library Director, and the entire Library staff for their dedication, interest and untiring efforts. It is they who have made possible this Volume Two of the DAR Library Catalog.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This volume is the result of the combined efforts of many individuals both at the Daughters of the American Revolution and at the various businesses offering professional support. Mrs. Walter Hughey King, President General, NSDAR, Mrs. Owen Vincent Gauthier, Librarian General and all of the members of the Executive Board of the King Administration have provided unfailing financial and moral support for this long-running undertaking.

Thanks must go to everyone involved in the cataloging of each book and in the preparation of the computerized records which have made this volume possible. Catalogers Ana Antolin, Suzanne Moe, and Mary Ann Rozmarynowski and data-entry technicians Karen Lyles, Hosay Samizay, Rhoda Price and Sandra Robinson deserve special recognition for months of tedious work. Cynthia Rummell has provided efficient and careful handling of all catalog orders and mailings. The remainder of the Library staff has given steady encouragement and maintained a friendly, cooperative atmosphere for those working on this project.

Others whose support is most appreciated include the staff of Library Systems and Services, Inc., from whom we leased the Mini-Marc Computer used in part of the project; Mr. Robert Kepple of Small Library Computing, who provided the Ultracard Software for the IBM-PC used to complete the data entry; and the staff of Port City Press who have been most cooperative and proficient in taking our ideas and data and transforming them into this book. Our thanks to everyone involved.

INTRODUCTION

For the first time since 1940 the DAR Library published a catalog of its holdings in 1982. The DAR Library Catalog, Volume One: Family Histories and Genealogies provided researchers with a listing of the valuable holdings of a portion of the Library's collection. A supplement to this first volume provided an update of the new books received through 1983. The second volume, DAR Library Catalog, Volume Two: State and Local Histories and Records, is the final volume of the present set and lists the holdings to January 1, 1985. A third volume will not be necessary. The set represents the culmination of the Library's Reclassification Project which began in 1980, and its completion in 1986 serves as a fitting commemoration for the Library's ninetieth anniversary.

Researchers will find this second volume to be a major reference source for several reasons. Besides listing the published holdings of the collection, many of which are available elsewhere, the catalog provides the first comprehensive listing of the unique, typescript volumes compiled each year since the 1920s by DAR State Societies and Chapters. These thousands of Genealogical Records Committee Reports contain unpublished genealogical records of all types (Bible, cemetery, court, personal, military, etc.) from all states and represent the most significant special feature of the collection. The DAR Library is the only research center where all of these materials are gathered in their entirety.

The catalog's subject index consists of all subject tracings in the Library's card catalog. During the cataloging and classification process the Library's catalogers attempt to develop subject tracings for all aspects of the book. Consequently, the DAR card catalog contains many more tracings for genealogical books than most, and it employs subject headings specifically tailored to genealogical research. Because of this extra effort to analyze the volumes in the collection, the subject index of this volume should prove to be a major reference tool for librarians and researchers alike who have access to both this and other large genealogical collections.

The DAR Library's shelf arrangement of books is also tailored to genealogical pursuits. This "collection-specific, term system" uses "call words" (and abbreviations) instead of the traditional call numbers to arrange the books by state and subject. The DAR Library's call words are included in this catalog at the end of each entry in bold print. Other libraries may wish to consult this catalog as a guide to establishing similar term classification systems for their own genealogical collections.

The Library staff accepts full responsibility for any inaccuracies, including inadvertent misspellings and typographical errors. In any project of this size some mistakes slip by despite proofreading and checking. Major errors and incorrect attributions should be reported to the Library.

GENERAL POLICIES OF THE DAR LIBRARY

When the DAR Library was established in 1896 the primary purpose was to provide staff genealogists with reference materials necessary to prove application papers. While this remains a major function of the Library, the role of the collection has expanded over the years and all researchers are welcome to use the facilities. The Library is strictly for reference and does not loan any of its materials.

HOURS: The Library is open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and is closed on all federal holidays. On certain Sunday afternoons the Library is also open to researchers; please inquire concerning the Sunday schedule. Always check for unscheduled closings, which occur occasionally, before visiting the Library from a distance. During most of the month of April each year the Library is closed to non-members during the DAR's Continental Congress. Specific dates vary each year and researchers should also request this information.

ENTRANCE FEE: A daily fee is required of all non-members who wish to use the Library. This fee provides funding for book binding and cataloging.

GROUP VISITS: Use of the Library by organized groups is welcome. An information sheet providing details of guidelines for such visits is available on request. Always register a group visit with the Library to avoid conflicts or special closings. March and October are the busiest months for group visits.

RESEARCH SERVICES: The Library staff cannot undertake extensive research but will attempt to answer concisely worded requests for information on very specific subjects. The DAR does provide a research service for the Library and other DAR collections through the Office of the Registrar General. Those interested in this service should contact the DAR Records Searcher, Office of the Registrar General directly for details and fees.

PHOTOCOPIES: The Library does make photocopies for all researchers, although there is a limitation on the number of copies per order, and entire books cannot be copied. Since photocopying may damage old or rare books, the Library Director reserves the right to refuse to copy from such volumes. Please write to the Library for current photocopying prices and limitations.

CATALOG SALES: Copies of both volumes of the DAR Library Catalog and of the 1984 supplement to Volume One should be ordered directly from the Library. Checks for the exact amount should be made payable to "Treasurer General, NSDAR." Prices are: Volume One $30.00 members, $35.00 non-members; Supplement $4.00 (when purchased separately; otherwise included with Volume One); Volume Two $60.00 members, $65.00 non-members. THE TITLES LISTED IN THE DAR LIBRARY CATALOG ARE NOT FOR SALE BY THE LIBRARY.

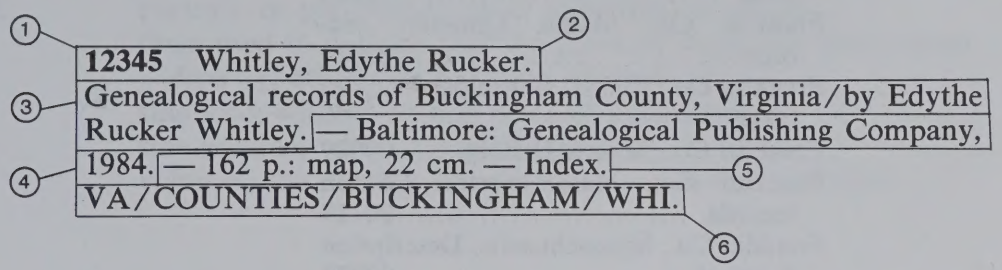
HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

This catalog has three main parts. First is the listing of the histories and records in the collection arranged by state and followed by a general section of subject groupings. Second is the author index, and third is the subject index.

MAIN LISTING OF STATE AND LOCAL HISTORIES AND RECORDS

The titles for each state are listed by main entry (author, or title if there is no author) within the appropriate section for that state. A sample entry from the main listing looks like this:



① Entry number assigned by the computer to the book and its record in this catalog. THIS IS NOT A CALL NUMBER. It is, however, the reference number used in the indices in this catalog.
② Author or compiler's name. If the book has neither, there will be a title main entry.
③ Title of the book, sometimes including subtitle, and statement of responsibility.
④ Publication information including place of publication, publisher, and date of publication.
⑤ Additional descriptive information on the book including number of pages or volumes, illustrations, index, and other notes made by the cataloger to describe special features or the physical condition of a volume. Holdings statements which may appear here are subject to change.
⑥ DAR Library call words. If a book's location is changed for some reason this section would be revised.

AUTHOR INDEX

This section indexes the main listings by giving an author's name and indicating the catalog numbers for each book the Library owns by this individual. Author's names can vary based on how their name is spelled or presented on the title page of the book. Check all variant spellings of an author's name. A sample section would look like this:

Schlosnagle, Stephen 00036
Senning, (Mrs.) Hilyer G. 00079
Sheffeld, Charles A. 00067
Simmons, John F. 00056
Smith, Frank 00088, 00089, 00090, 00091, 00092
Snell, Katherine H. 00019
Souther, Samuel 00020
Spraque, John Francis, ed. 00007
Stanley, Josiah M. 00074

SUBJECT INDEX

The subject index is comprised of the subject tracings in the card catalog in the DAR Library. The selection of these tracings comes from careful study of each book and frequently a book may have numerous tracings; many more, in fact, than it would in other libraries. The tracings used at the Library are tailored to enhance genealogical research. The five-digit number after each subject refers to the entry number for the appropriate book(s) in this printed catalog. A sample section would look like this:

Franklin Co., Kentucky, Church records. 00018
Franklin Co., Kentucky, Court records. 00020
Franklin Co., Maine, Cemetery records. 00029
Franklin Co., Maine, Genealogy. 00029
Franklin Co., Maine, History. 00029
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, Church records. 00119
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, Description & travel. 00072
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, Historic buildings. 00061, 00072
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, History. 00072
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, Genealogy. 00065
Franklin Co., Massachusetts, History. ... 00065
Frederick Co., Maryland, Baptismal records. 00043, 00056
Frederick Co., Maryland, Biography. ... 00060
Frederick Co., Maryland, Cemetery records. 00046, 00047, 00058
Frederick Co., Maryland, Census 1800. 00049

Several special considerations must be kept in mind when using the Subject Index. This is an index with a geographic orientation, and therefore, many subject headings which appear before the geographic name in standard library catalogs appear as subheadings after the geographic heading in this volume. In addition there are many variations in subject headings which are the result of the combined work of numerous catalogers over the years. Despite efforts to standardize these headings during proofreading, the number of these inconsistencies prevented a complete revision of the index at that stage.

A note of caution is necessary regarding personal and place names which begin with such prefixes as "de" or such foreign articles as "la" or "le". If a space appears between the prefix or article and the remainder of the name, the computer has alphabetized the word differently than a person would. Example: names such as Le Bar are alphabetized in the "B" section, not in "L"; and a name like "DeKalb" or "De Kalb" will appear in two different places within the "D" section of the index.
